You can draw your ideal volume curve on individual clips with node-based Clip Gain, and use instant visual feedback to balance levels against surrounding vocals.. For this reason, noise reduction is a necessary part of making music In a given session, we clean up hiss and rumble from home recordings, pull out clicks and pops from vocal performances, and dull pinging frequencies that poke out too far in the mix.. It probably sounds better than that nasty recording in the 'before' example Hard to make that any worse. Mountain Lion Cache Cleaner For Mac
